Meet the Team

Allow us to introduce ourselves:
Name, Major, Year and Role

You can find officer information on the officer's page of the AWICS website.

What is AWICS?

- AWICS is an organization that is built on a community of university students who want to explore their interest in the field of technology and promote the inclusivity of women within the field.
- This organization is held together through socials, mentorship, service, corporate events, workshops, and our mutual passion for Computer Science.
- AWICS welcomes all students, regardless of sex or major.
